BRIEF ABSTRACT OF LETTER.

Submits with refer to this office letter no. 7659 of 3.4.15 a copy of the Bangalore City Municipal Council's resolution agreeing to contribute Rs 2500 towards the construction of a new building for the E. D. Hosp, Bangalore and recommended the construction of new buildings for the Hosp instead of effecting improvements to the existing buildings at a cost of nearly Rs 82,000.

NOTES AND ORDERS.

The cost of constructing new buildings for the E. D. Hosp, Bangalore, is estimated at Rs 1,70,000. The Govt will have to provide funds to the extent of Rs 1,45,000 for the purpose.

4) The present question is one mainly of funds. The proposals in this matter are not very favourable and the present financial situation is no improvement on that of March 1915.

5) The ~~Senior Surgeon~~ San'yam says, however, that the cost of improvements to the existing building is so prohibitive, that the Constⁿ of a new building is ~~really~~ the really cheaper course.

The cost of the new building is estimated at Rs. 1,70,000. The expenditure may be spread over a number of years, five or six, and the plan so designed as to admit of blocks being built year by year.

equal proportion. The Bangalore District Board are said to have resolved that they are unable to make any contribution towards the cost of the building for the present as no funds are available, but as the expenditure will be spread over a number of years, they may perhaps be moved to reconsider the question. If, having regard to their financial condition, it is found that they are unable to pay the usual one-third share, they may be asked to pay at least a fourth of the cost, the remaining three-fourths being divided equally between Government and the Bangalore City Municipality. It is under contemplation to extend the usefulness of the hospital and to make it a - - hospital for all epidemic diseases, and even as it is, it cannot be said that the people in the Bangalore District outside the City are not enjoying the benefits thereof.

29) So far as the Bangalore City Municipality is concerned, there seems to be no excuse for not paying its due share of the cost, especially when it is receiving liberal grants from Government in aid of its purposes. The Financial Secretary has stated above that it can pay its share at once and with this and also with what it may be possible to spare out of State Funds and District Funds, a beginning may perhaps be made in the construction of the building.

Probably, for the next three years, we shall not be able to find money, on account of the large expenditure on the University Buildings.

New Buildings for the Central Jail, Lunatic Asylum and Epidemic Diseases Hospital, will be all expensive. I should suggest that some Rs. 30 or -- 40,000 including contributions from the Municipality and the District Board, may be spent at once to repair and make habitable the present Epidemic ---- Diseases Hospital, and we take up the question of constructing a new building, in July 1919.

The Health Officer, Bangalore City, having condemned the existing buildings of the Epidemic Diseases Hospital, Bangalore City, as being ill-built and ill-equipped with regard to --- accommodation, furniture &c., the President of the Bangalore City Municipal Council^x urged in April 1914 the necessity of constructing a new building for the hospital, the entire cost being met from the State Funds. After some correspondence on the subject of a site for the new hospital and the cost of the work, the Sanitary Commissioner was^x informed that it was not possible for Government to provide any funds for the construction of the new buildings estimated to cost about Rs .1,70,000. He was also requested to submit in consultation with the President of the Bangalore City Municipal Council and the Chief Engineer, definite proposals for effecting any urgent and necessary improvements to the existing buildings at a moderate cost.

The aggregate cost of the necessary improvements to the existing hospital buildings is^x estimated by the Public Works Department at Rs.82,000—a sum equivalent to one-half of the estimated outlay for a new building. The Bangalore City Municipal Council, the Sanitary Commissioner and the Chief Engineer^Q are all agreed that it is better to construct a new building for the hospital than to attempt repairing the present buildings at such a heavy cost. The Financial Department also accepts^x this opinion and the Bangalore City Municipal Council have^x --- offered to contribute a sum of Rs.25,000 for the new work.

Sir,

Q. With reference to your letter No. 7659 Med 190-13-6 dated the 3rd April 1915, I have the honor to state that, at my request, the Chief Engineer was good enough to have an estimate prepared for urgent and necessary improvements to the existing buildings of the Epidemic Diseases Hospital, Bangalore City. I submit the plans and estimates received, - for the information of Government.

2. I also enclose copy of letter No. 981 dated the 11th October 1915 from the Honorary President, City Municipal Council, Bangalore, forwarding a copy of the resolution of the Municipal Council offering a lumpsum contribution, out of Municipal funds, of a sum of Rs. 25,000 towards the cost of a new building. The District Board in the proceedings of their meeting held on the 13th July 1915 have recorded the resolution that "no contribution could be given for the present as no funds are available".

3. It will be seen that the aggregate cost of the improvements recommended by the Engineering Department amounts to nearly Rs. 82,000 which is almost equivalent to a half of the estimated outlay for a pukka building. Under the circumstances, I agree with the Municipal Council, Bangalore City & strongly Memo dated 29th September 1915 from the Health Officer.

I beg to submit to the President as follows :-

Where everything is wrong it is difficult to make proposals for "necessary" improvements. I have dealt, in some detail, on the manifold structural and other defects of this Institution, in my Memorandum No.850 dated 23rd January 1914. If the question of constructing a properly equipped Hospital has to be shelved, I have no other option except to propose that the existing corrugated iron huts put up during the early years of plague be dismantled and Mangalore tiled structures built in their stead. The present buildings are all leaky, wood-work insecure and there are all mostly in such state of disrepair that a heavy gale or storm would be likely to lead to serious accidents to the sick people as well as their attendants. The quarters for the Hospital staff & for the menials are in a hardly less precarious condition. The entire wood-work will have to be replaced. The wards require to have good foundation, high basement, and pukka flooring of stone and tiles. I took engineering opinion thereon & learn that the minimum cost of each ward to accommodate 8 patients, with only corrugated iron sheet walls but with deep verandahs to prevent heating up of metal and with the preceding requirements of roofing, foundation, basement and flooring fulfilled would cost between Rs.2000/- to Rs.2500/-. 6 such wards to accommodate the approximate number of patients during mild epidemics would therefore cost from Rs.12000/- to Rs.15000/-. I respectfully beg to state that even this minimum expenditure, which would not cover the cost of rendering the staff quarters habitable, would be too heavy to waste on what at best would be make-shift arrangements.

A reference to the letter from the Secretary to Government reveals that the Councils' resolution in submitting the rough estimate for the construction of an Epidemic Diseases Hospital has been very sympathetically received. Government agree that a new Hospital is necessary but they ask what part of total expenditure of Rs.1,70,000/- the Municipal Council will be prepared to contribute. The Municipal Council were pleased to say that they were unable to contribute anything & urged on Government that the Institution may be treated in the same manner as the Victoria, General and Eye Hospitals of the City. In the discussions at the Council Meeting of the 17th April 1915 it was said that to the same extent that these pre-ceeding Institutions served the State as a whole, the Epidemic Diseases Hospital also would ^{be} of wide service. I beg to point out that the similarity is imaginary. Patients do come to the Eye Hospital all the way from Sorab and Sringeri, but it is difficult to conceive of Plague, Cholera and Small-pox patients coming for treatment from Balehonnur or Bagepalli.

It is not to the interest of the Municipality that the most important medical institution from their point of view should be in this condition. Failure to remove cases of communicable disease or contacts away from crowded localities involves loss of life, absolutely preventable. ^{it} But is easier to drive people to live in the cattle pound than to induce them to go to the existing Hospital.

I therefore request that the subject may kindly be placed for the sympathetic reconsideration of the Municipal Council.. A contribution of Rs.25,000/- will probably ensure the completion of the building within the next three years. It is true that the Municipality is hard pressed for funds specially now that large and important schemes are on foot. But subscribing one and securing five are not devoid of profit from the commercial point of view, even if the money had to be borrowed. I beg that the question may, if possible, be brought up as an additional subject in the ensuing Council Meeting.

Memo dated the 29th September 1915, from the Health Officer forwarding proposals for effecting some urgent and necessary improvement to the existing buildings of the Epidemic Diseases Hospital in Bangalore.

Resolution :- In view of the deplorable & dilapidated state of the present Epidemic Diseases Hospital buildings, the Council considers that any money spent on any "urgent and necessary improvements" will be worse than useless and consequently resolved that a lumpsum of Rs. 25,000/- be contributed by the Municipality towards the cost of a new building.

No. 981 dated 11-10-1915 from the Honorary President, Municipal Council, Bangalore City, to the Sanitary Commissioner to the Government of Mysore, Bangalore.

With reference to correspondence ending with your letter No. 6275 dated the 28th June 1915 calling for proposals for effecting urgent and necessary improvement to the existing buildings of the City Epidemic Diseases Hospital, I have the honor to forward herewith, for your information, copies of the Health Officer's Memo dated the 29th September 1915, pointing out the undesirability of spending more money on the present dilapidated buildings of the Hospital and proposing the construction of a pucca building therefor and of the Municipal Council's resolution dated the 2nd October 1915 approving the above proposal and offering a lumpsum contribution of Rs. 25,000/- out of Municipal Funds towards the cost of the building.

2. Considering the bad condition of the present buildings, I am of opinion that the money that may be laid out in their repairs may be more advantageously utilized in the construction of a new Epidemic Diseases Hospital and I accordingly commend the resolution of Municipal Council for your consideration.

Correspondence ending with letter No. 4087, dated the 19th April 1916, from the Sanitary Commissioner in Mysore, in the matter of constructing new buildings for the Epidemic Diseases Hospital, Bangalore.

Order No. 3775-81—MED. 126-15-6, dated 12th December 1916.

Government concur with the Bangalore City Municipal Council, the Sanitary Commissioner and the Chief Engineer in the opinion that it is desirable to construct a new building for the Epidemic Diseases Hospital, Bangalore, instead of repairing the present buildings at so heavy a cost as Rs. 82,000 estimated by the Public Works Department. The Public Works Department estimate for a new building, however, is prohibitive. In view, however, of the offer of a contribution of Rs. 25,000 by the Bangalore City Municipal Council for the work in question, Government direct that a new building for the Epidemic Diseases Hospital be constructed on a cheaper plan at a cost of Rs. 75,000, the District Board of the Bangalore District, the Bangalore City Municipal Council and Government contributing Rs. 10,000, Rs. 25,000 and Rs. 40,000 respectively.

2. The Presidents of the Bangalore City Municipal Council and the District Board of the Bangalore District are requested to provide for their shares of contribution in their respective budgets for 1917-18.

3. As regards the site for the new buildings, the Sanitary Commissioner is requested to submit definite proposals in conformity with the rules issued with Government Order No. 2859-61—Ml. 246-15-3, dated 11th November 1916; with his opinion as to which of the two alternative sites suggested may be preferably selected for the purpose.

4. The Chief Engineer is requested to cause the necessary plans and estimates to be prepared in consultation with the Senior Surgeon and arrange for the quota of contribution from State Funds being met from the normal grant for the Public Works Department. The plan of the new building may be so designed as to admit of construction of additional blocks as funds permit.
